

HOLLOW CITY

(Na Cidade Vazia)

A Film by Maria Joao Ganga

Africa Educational Trust (AET) was established 50 years ago by the legendary anti-apartheid campaigner Rev. Michael Scott. Today AET mainly operates in conflict-affected regions of Africa where formal structures for education are absent or have broken down. AET develops innovative education and training programmes, especially for children, young women, displaced and disabled people, with the aim of supporting people in contributing to the development of their communities. Over 750,000 people have been supported over the past five decades but there is still much, much more to be done. This film showing is one of a series of special 50th anniversary events to raise awareness and funds to support the work of AET.

www.africaeducationaltrust.org

HOLLOW CITY

(Na Cidade Vazia)

A Film by Maria Joao Ganga

AET invites you to the UK premiere of
HOLLOW CITY

30th October 2008 at 8.30pm
@Coronet Cinema, Notting Hill

Following a massacre in a tribal village, 11-year-old N'dala is rescued by a missionary nun and flown to Angola's capital where he runs away with only a sack on his back and a toy car made of wire.

The award-winning Hollow City, directed by Maria João Ganga is the first ever feature by an Angolan female director.

Tickets: £10 Students £8
Booking: 020 7727 6705

Coronet Cinema, 103, Notting Hill Gate, London W11 3LB www.coronet.org